

Inserm is an academic scientific, clinical and technological institute dedicated to biomedical research and human health. Inserm's public service mission is to ensure that the results will effectively reach patients. Almost all Inserm units are under the joint responsibility of another research establishment or organization (called joint organizations).

Inserm Transfert is the private subsidiary of Inserm under a Public Service Delegation agreement (DSP). Inserm Transfert is dedicated to the valorization of research and biomedical innovations from Inserm laboratories and ensures compliance with Inserm's public service mission.
